JOSEF AND DANA VOLMAN

Dana and Josef Volman enjoy partnering together to support community and organizations that create change.

Dana serves on the board of the Boston Jewish Film Festival. She is passionate about the arts and feels film is a valuable medium to share the richness of the Jewish culture. Prior to her involvement at BJFF, Dana volunteered at Lovelane - a therapeutic equestrian facility in Weston MA where she aided children with physical and mental disabilities to learn the incredible healing connection through horses. Dana spent several years working in the fashion industry in New York and helps JFS with various clothing initiatives including co-hosting a clothing drive for women and volunteering at the JFS Children’s Clothing Closet.

Joe was introduced to JFS through his involvement with CJP. He is a Vice President of the Board of JFS, and serves on the Board of Hillel and is a lecturer at Tufts University, his alma mater. Joe was previously on the Board of Temple Shir Tikva in Wayland. He enjoys volunteering with his family at JFS events, such as the annual Thanksgiving dinner distribution at the Wilson School in Framingham. Joe is the co-chair of the Business Law Group at Burns & Levinson LLP, where he has been a partner for over 20 years. Joe has built a reputation as a deal maker in the business community, working with entrepreneurs and investors, start up and emerging growth companies, and Private Equity and Venture Capital Firms through all phases of investment and liquidity transactions.

Dana and Joe live in Newton with their son Dylan (19) and daughter Skylar (16). They instill in their children the importance of family, community, and devotion to cause.
Kronos Incorporated is the recipient of the 2019 Max Michelson Humanitarian Award. Character, trust, innovation, and collaboration. That is Kronos Incorporated. Humility and boldness intertwined. That defines the company’s employees – known as Kronites – locally and globally, nearly 6,000 strong worldwide. The company’s decency combined with the commitment to family, to community and authenticity exemplified by Kronites, align with JFS and our impacts in advancing social and health equity, inclusion and community building.

Kronos’ local and global volunteerism and philanthropy demonstrate that every life matters. Kronos’ GivelInspired corporate philanthropic charter commits to youth workforce development and alternative education in places where Kronites live and work; to inner city economic development; to education for children and health services for adolescent girls and women in India. Acts like these are what made Kronos a two-time winner of Fortune magazine’s “Best Workplaces for Giving Back” honor. Just like our beloved Max Michelson, Holocaust Survivor, mentor, friend, teacher, guiding light to so many of us, Kronites Act. Stand up for those powerless, those without a voice.
Jewish Family Service (JFS) of Metrowest is proud to award the Max Michelson Humanitarian Award to the Kronos GiveInspired team, the first corporate awardee.

Max Michelson was mentor, friend, teacher, guiding light to so many of us.

Max – Holocaust survivor, co-founder of JFS, community leader – provided wisdom and hope.

Max inspired each of us to be better, do better, never make excuses, always move forward.

He transformed a story of pain and torment into a commitment to justice, to ending pain and suffering and to defending the powerless.

There is shared passion, decency, commitment to family, to community and authenticity exemplified by Kronites locally and globally and the alignment to JFS and our impacts in advancing social and health equity, inclusion and community building.

Kronos’ local and global volunteerism and philanthropy demonstrate that every life matters. GiveInspired commits to youth workforce development and alternative education in Lowell; to inner city economic development; to education for children and health services for adolescent girls and women in India. Just like our beloved Max Michelson, Kronites Act. Stand up for those powerless, those without a voice.
A message from JFS President David Milowe and CEO Marc Jacobs

Seize the Dream celebrates outstanding men, women, and for the first time, a corporation—whose efforts power and inspire our community.

Josef and Dana Volman and GiveInspired Kronos improve the lives of children and families locally and globally.

Joe and Dana carve paths in deeply caring for vulnerable children and families; they create models of caring and engagement for their own children. Joe and Dana are beautifully humble, engaged, productive, and influential.

For its leadership in corporate social responsibility and engaging and mobilizing hundreds of participating “Kronites” around the world, GiveInspired receives the second Max Michelson Humanitarian Award. GiveInspired is an energy force field and Aron Ain, Kronos CEO and former JFS Board President has modeled in both the corporate and civic space how acts of loving kindness have measurable and large impacts.

Improving Social Equity is at the forefront of all JFS efforts and impacts. Civic engagement, a moral compass unrelenting in attacking inequities, a deep and talented staff and Board of Directors— that is a powerful combination. JFS shares absolute clarity with the principles underlying the Max Michelson Humanitarian Award:

Act. Stand up for those powerless, those without a voice. Be embraced by a caring and protective community.

Stories, some very personal, are being shared tonight. We are proud to highlight the work accomplished on behalf of over 5,000 people.

Outcomes and impacts, with clear measures and strong data are at the forefront of all JFS programs. JFS is instrumental in significantly reducing poverty in the Jewish community.

JFS is instrumental in inventing new and vibrant models for harnessing the power of volunteers to transform lives.

JFS is instrumental in enabling elders to remain independent in the community.

Your involvement and generosity make impacts possible.

Our partnership with Combined Jewish Philanthropies (CJP) is deep and aligned. With CJP, and with partners from our amazing network of Jewish community organizations as well as with academic, health care and other partners, we are leveraging and multiplying resources and their subsequent results together.

JFS is fiscally responsible. JFS was awarded 4 Stars by Charity Navigator, with an unsurpassed score of 100 (one of only 60 agencies out of over 9,000 rated by Charity Navigator to achieve that score!). We must be better, do better, never make excuses, and always move forward. Join with us to create new seasons of light and hope for those without a voice.

Sincerely,

David Milowe
President, Board of Directors

Marc Jacobs
Chief Executive Officer
Dear Friends,

CJP is proud and honored to join the celebration of Jewish Family Service of Metrowest at this year’s Seize the Dream Gala. We value our partnership with JFS to help the most vulnerable in our community. Through JFS’ work, thousands of people – from children and the elderly to families in need of financial stability – find the assistance they need to navigate challenging times. The help that you provide to the Jewish community and beyond is at the core of our Jewish values – to help the stranger, to help and love those in need.

During The 360Five, our listening tour that started in October 2018, we have heard so many in our community point to JFS as a place that lifts up our community through the anti-poverty initiative, which was recognized as a national model at the Jewish Funder’s Network Conference in March. We are proud to be associated with an organization improving the lives of so many.

We congratulate Dana and Josef Volman and Kronos Incorporated, who are being honored tonight. Joe and Dana’s passion for the Jewish community, and commitment to volunteering and improving the lives of those in need, is an inspiration. Kronos, which will receive the Max Michelson Humanitarian Award, is a model of how a company can stand up for its values, define commitment to community and its workforce, and do so with humility, character, and boldness. We also see these values embodied in Kronos CEO, Aron Ain, who we have the honor of knowing through his work as a CJP Board member and volunteer.

CJP congratulates JFS of Metrowest on another great year, and the Volmans and Kronos Incorporated for their impactful work and well-deserved recognition. May you go from strength to strength.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Marc Baker
President and CEO

Cindy Janower
Chair, Board of Directors
On behalf of 6,000+ Kronites worldwide, thank you, JFS of Metrowest, for this exceptionally humbling honor and for all that you do to better our communities, support families in need, and inspire greatness in those fortunate enough to be warmed by your team’s tireless efforts.

Sincere congratulations to fellow honorees Dana and Josef Volman for this recognition acknowledging your devotion to cause, selflessness, and overall leadership that will have a lasting impact on Metrowest, greater Massachusetts, and beyond. Kronos is proud to be included in your company.

At Kronos, we never underestimate the impact of giving back to our communities and investing in the future. Through our GiveInspired grant, we’ve built relationships with organizations that embody our mission of inspiring the next-generation workforce and giving back to communities where Kronites live and work. Like Max Michelson, Kronites strive to make an impact every day.

Upon accepting this great honor, we’d also like to recognize those Kronites on our GiveInspired committee who work hard to provide the means and opportunities for the company and our employees to help and inspire others.

We are so grateful for our involvement with JFS. Our love affair with JFS began with our introduction to Marc Jacobs by our friends at CJP. We told our CJP representative that we were looking to work with an organization making deep impact in our Metrowest community and CJP said that we had to meet Marc and see the great work that JFS is doing. We are so thankful to Lino Covarrubias and the staff of JFS for all of the great work they do and for allowing us to be a small part of the group of admirers and supporters of such an incredible organization that clearly makes an immeasurable impact on so many lives. You make us proud every day. We are also thankful to our fellow board members at JFS for their tireless dedication and passion for the organization.

We also want to congratulate our fellow honoree Kronos led by a man who we admire and look up to, Aron Ain. Aron has created a group of Kronites who bring light to so many in need of a helping hand. We are humbled to be included on the same stage as such a wonderful organization that has giving and charity as part of its corporate mantra. Tonight we are all “Kronites”.

A special thanks to Joe’s partners at Burns & Levinson and to all of our family and friends who donated to JFS to make this night so special. We are also thinking of those that could not be with us but our in our hearts, including our grandparents and our friend Andy Pachman who taught us to be humble and to always show kindness to others. Our children have also been involved in JFS and we hope they will continue to perpetuate the values of giving back to the community.

Legacy Giving Program

The Jewish Family Service of Metrowest (JFS) Board of Directors endorsed the creation of JFS’s Legacy Giving Program to meet the current demand for client services and to sustain the agency’s ability to meet future demands.

The Legacy Giving Program, through the establishment of endowments, ensures that funds are available for JFS to:

- Meet future needs
- Maintain consistent program funding
- Expand financial resources
- Respond in the event of an emergency

To ensure that your interest in and support of JFS programs and services endure, please consider creating a named fund, establishing an endowment, and/or including JFS in your estate planning.

Together, we can maintain the agency’s promise to the community to stand up for those left behind.
